Presented by Clerk of the Circuit Court of Collier County in cooperation with the Frances Pew Hayes Center for Lifelong Learning at Hodges University. The seminar will be held on the campus of Hodges University in Naples.*

Description:

Did you ever want or need to be a private investigator? A private investigator runs on information and with today's technology, information is at your finger tips.

As the keeper of the public records in Collier County, Dwight Brock, Clerk of Courts, is committed to making public information more quickly and easily available through the Clerk's official website, CollierClerk.com.

Do you want to find out if someone has a criminal record? Or, look up a legal document like a mortgage, a claim of lien, or homeowner's association document?

Find out how you can get a passport application, a marriage license or even look up your jury service numbers on the Clerk's new website. This seminar will highlight other online services that enable someone to dispose of a traffic citation, file a tenant eviction or even a small claims case.

All this, and more, will be covered in this interactive tour of CollierClerk.com.
